

SUBSCRIPTION FOR RELIEF OF NEEDY HEBREWS

Closing Services of Fast of Yom Kippur at Temple Bnai Abraham.

FUND RAISED FOR THE POOR IN EUROPE

Rabbi Silver Delivers Strong Sermon on Yom Kippur; Lesson in Right Living.

The fast of Yom Kippur, holiest day in the calendar of the Jewish church, was brought to a close with an impressive sermon at Temple Bnai Abraham last night by Rabbi Silver. At the conclusion of the service an appeal was made for funds for the relief of the needy Jews in Europe, stricken with want and threatened with famine in many sections as a result of the war. One hundred and fifty dollars was raised by subscription which will be forwarded to the Jewish Relief Society in New York.

Rabbi Silver's Yom Kippur sermon was delivered yesterday afternoon. Its text in full is as follows:

"We 'conservative' Jews have drifted far enough away from the old ideas and practices. It is not necessary to state that the Yom Kippur of our grandfathers was different from the Yom Kippur we observe. But there is one point on which we may assume our sympathies, which are still strong with the old folk. Take Yom Kippur as you will, the fact remains that every one of us is conscious of moral shortcomings. Every one feels these shortcomings to be a great obstacle and hindrance. Riddance of these shortcomings would be a good thing. Our hearts would be lighter, our wills stronger, our dispositions more lovable, if these shortcomings were corrected. That is how we feel Yom Kippur night.

"When our fathers observed Yom Kippur, they probably had similar feelings. At least, it may be said that:

"We are the same that our fathers have been,
We see the same sights that our fathers have seen,
We drink the same stream, and we feel the same sun,
And we run the same course that our fathers have run."

"Between those of bygone generations, and us of today, this may be the gist of the difference:

"They of old said, 'Man has sinned, God will punish.'

"Have a day of fasting and prayer that God may forbear to punish. We of today do not conceive of God in such man-like terms. A God who punishes schoolmaster fashion, or jailer fashion, hardly accords with the scientific and philosophic ideas that are becoming the property of schooled and unschooled alike. We of today say this however: 'Sin is itself misery enough.' No subsequent punishment for sin can be as bad as the sin itself. The sin itself is the thing that shocks and horrifies us. The sin itself is the thing to be dreaded, escaped and gotten rid of. If getting punished is, in a way going to help us because cleaned of the sin, then is punishment precisely the thing that we should not wish to escape. Then is punishment the thing to be welcomed, precisely the thing in which is discerned not Divine anger but Divine love.

"We cannot, moreover hold out to anyone, hopes of escaping punishment, and we shall note Divine punishment, in the ancient sense, we do not believe in; while punishment in the modern sense is something for which there is no remission, from which there is no escape.

"Punishment in the sense in which we or today can profess belief, is simply an impressive way of telling the old, old story of cause and effect. 'Put your hand in the fire, it will burn. No amount of praying and fasting will save it from burning. Drink arsenic, a sufficient dose of it, you die, no matter how many good people may be praying for your recovery.

"Similarly tell a lie and you have the consequences to reckon with; Not only does conscience of the inside get unpleasantly busy but your short-legged lie will not have long to run. You stand a liar in the face of the community and no amount of praying and fasting will make you appear less a liar.

"Make a fool of yourself. Talk excessively, go about bragging, and boasting; oil your mouth with ointment of flattery, absurdly believing that the one whom you flatter does not see through your wretched hoax. Do you imagine that you can do these things and still retain your respect and the respect of your neighbors? Do you imagine the Almighty will stop to perform miracles to spare you, and save you from the natural consequence of your folly?

"Get into a bad habit, it matters you. Let your body taint itself with unchaste and immoral indulgence. Let the soul of you get besmirched with impurity and filth. Do you mean to say that there will be no score to pay?

INDIAN AGENT WRITES A BOOK

A. B. Reagan of the Nett Lake Agency Author of "Don Diego" Just from Press.

Copies of "Don Diego," a novel from the pen of A. B. Reagan, Indian agent at the Nett lake agency, and well known in Virginia, have been received in the city today.

"Don Diego" is a story dealing with the traditions, customs and lore of the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico and Arizona as well as various other tribes. It is founded on an actual incident, elaborated for the purpose of extending the narrative, well illustrated, and is one of the most unique works of the kind ever published.

In the preparation of the manuscript the author was assisted by a member of the faculty of Columbia university, New York, to whom is given in the preface grateful acknowledgment.

Mr. Reagan wrote the book at the agency at Nett lake and it is handsomely printed and bound by the Vail-Ballou company of Binghamton, New York. It is his first book, but for some time he has been a contributor to scientific and historical magazines interested in the work of research among the American Indians. He has written a paper on the geology of the Cascade range of mountains which is regarded as one of the best authorities in concise form on that subject.

In "Don Diego" for the first time is given to the American public an interesting account of the various Indian secret societies of the southwest tribes, some of them thousands of years old and founded by the Aztecs and Toltecs, an explanation of the symbolism of their dances, incantations, hieroglyphics and rude attempts at art in paintings, images and totems.

Mr. Reagan's book will no doubt be given a wide reading in Virginia, where the author is well known and has many friends. He has been in the Indian service practically all his life and was for some years stationed at agencies in the New Mexico and Arizona country.

BIG SQUAD FOR PRACTICE

A big squad turned out for practice on the city football team last night. They were given a stiff workout by Coach Rademacher and showed up in fine form. Herman Eaton played at the quarterback position with all his old time vim and ginger and the entire crew showed speed. Chisholm will be taken on at Oliver park Sunday in the first game of the season. The team looks good to all the football fans who have been privileged to see it work out and they are confident it will make a showing that will secure games with the best elevens in the state.

THIRTY BIRD LICENSES OUT

Thirty small game licenses were issued at the office of City Clerk Bickford yesterday and today to Virginia hunters, who are spending today in the woods hunting partridges. Ideal weather marked the opening day of the season and some big bags should be brought to the city this evening. Many hunting parties left the city by automobile before daylight and motored to isolated spots in the woods where they will spend the day following old logging roads and trails, where the birds are most frequently found at this season of the year.

"Get into a bad habit, it matters not what it is; whether it be the habit of drinking or of idle time wasting, or of gossiping, or of slandering, or of seeking dishonestly gains by the hour at the gaming table. And then go into a temple and pray 'O Lord, make it as easy for me to avoid drinking and to avoid time wasting, and to avoid gambling by cards or by whatever other method as though I had never gotten into the habit. Yes, ask that and see what the Lord does to you. You might as well pray, 'O Lord, let me jump from the house top and yet approach the sidewalk as gently as though I were descending in an elevator.' Every sin, every folly, every indiscretion has its consequences. There is no escape. And the sooner we make up our minds to bear these consequences, the better it will be for us.

"Indeed, the first step to getting rid of sin is the deep fixing in our minds of the recognition that the consequences of that sin can be escaped. The consequences must be borne. Make up your mind to bear the consequences and patiently, courageously bear them."

EBERHART TO VISIT RANGE

Governor Will Campaign Iron Country for William E. Lee.

Governor Eberhart will campaign the iron ranges for William E. Lee and will be heard in Virginia in the near future. This is the news brought to the city last night by W. J. Archer, who had just returned from Duluth, where he attended a meeting of the republican county committee.

"Governor Eberhart will be the first speaker on the range for Mr. Lee," said Mr. Archer last night. "His dates have not yet been definitely arranged, but he will probably visit Virginia some time within the next few weeks. Other speakers will also be heard here on behalf of Mr. Lee and the campaign will close with a talk by Mr. Lee and other candidates for state offices who will tour the range in a special train and will conclude their itinerary with a big evening meeting in Virginia.

"Reports from all sections of the state regarding the prospect of Mr. Lee's election are very encouraging. There are absolutely no indications of the John A. Johnson landslide of which we hear so much from our democratic friends."

ORCHESTRA CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

The Philharmonic Orchestra club of the general extension division of the University of Minnesota give a concert at Elks temple tomorrow night under the auspices of Virginia lodge of Elks. The organization is one of the finest which has come to the city in some time and has an instrumentation of 12 pieces. Its concert will be a genuine musical treat and will be the first of a number of entertainments to be given during the fall and winter under the auspices of the Elks.

AURORA MAY BE A CLOSED TOWN

The lid may go on in Aurora, according to a complaint filed with Assistant County Attorney Boyle by an Aurora business man who seeks to have the saloons compelled to live up to the state law and charges that at present they are running after 11 o'clock and on Sunday. He has asked and will be granted an investigation of conditions.

GRAND OPENING OF NEW STORE

The grand opening of Jereissati Bros. new store, resplendent throughout with new stocks direct from the best of the eastern markets, will begin tomorrow and continue over Saturday and will be the event of the week for Virginia buyers. It will afford the first opportunity for many local people to visit the new store of Jereissati Bros., one of the finest on the range, refitted and restocked throughout. Saturday afternoon Kraft's orchestra will be on hand to furnish music and every visitor to the opening will receive a ticket on a handsome silk Persian rug which is to be given away to the one holding the winning number. It is valued at $100 and is more than 60 years old. The show windows of the store and the interior as well have been tastefully dressed for the opening and the indications are that it will be attended by a large crowd.

Licensed to Wed. Marriage licenses were this morning issued to August Laakso and Mary Kangas and to George Byrtius and Mary Garmio.

$10 SPECIAL PRIZE FOR TOMORROW

The second $10.00 special prize in the Enterprise $1,000.00 subscription campaign will be awarded tomorrow at 5 p. m. This prize will be for the most money turned in on subscription since the first special prize was awarded. Last week's prize was won by Miss Katherine Gately.

The churches of the city are neglecting a splendid opportunity to capture the $500.00 Capital Prize. It was expected that at least one of the religious denominations would bring out a candidate, but up to date they have failed to do so.

There are still more prizes than candidates in the campaign. This may mean that nobody in Virginia has any use for $500, or it may mean that folks think their time is too valuable to justify them in working a month to win a $500 prize.

But this indifference on the part of the majority makes it all the easier for those who do participate in the campaign. The campaign is almost two weeks old—but seven yearly subscriptions to The Daily Enterprise would give YOU—or any new candidate the lead over the others.

Think it over. Then call at the campaign office and talk to the Campaign Manager, 416 First National Bank building.

BUYS INTEREST IN FAY HOTEL

C. H. Rattinger, Formerly Connected With House, Will Again Become Manager.

C. H. Rattinger, formerly connected with the New Fay hotel in this city as manager, and for several months past with the Lenox hotel in Duluth in a similar capacity, has purchased a fourth interest in the Markham Hotel Co., and has returned to Virginia to become manager of the New Fay.

Mr. Rattinger has a wide acquaintance in Virginia. He has been connected with several of the best hotels in Duluth and is a hotel man of long experience. He will personally manage the New Fay and will be warmly welcomed back to Virginia by many friends and by the traveling public who are patrons of the house.

ORE SEASON THROUGH SOON

DULUTH, Oct. 1.—Vessel managers are spending a good deal of time trying to get a line on the probable close of the ore season. Some of the shippers have already let it be known they will be through by Nov. 1 and one shipper has nothing in sight to ship after Oct. 15. No shipper, it is generally believed, will ship any ore after Nov. 10.

The coal business is not likely to improve during the next few weeks, as shipments from upper lake docks are not as heavy as the season would warrant. How much this is a financial condition cannot be determined, but it is believed the war is having considerable effect in holding down the coal movement.

At Buffalo eighteen vessels holding 2,818,000 bushels of grain are waiting. The elevators on Saturday unloaded 1,000,000 bushels of grain, at which rate, with current receipts, means a ship will be four days getting rid of a grain cargo.

MANY MOTHERS WANT PENSIONS

Six applications for aid under the mother's pension law were made at the last session of the juvenile court. In nearly all cases they were from women widowed and left with the care of dependent families. In the range district under the mother's pension law there is now being paid out in relief of needy mothers and their dependent children a sum in the aggregate about $1,000. Many of the recent applications were from women who have been supporting themselves by doing family washings and at odd jobs, who declare they are unable to get this sort of employment owing to the general disposition to curtail expenses on the part of households and business concerns.

CALLIGAN ON A VISIT TO RANGE

"One good term deserves another" will be the campaign slogan of Register of Deeds Charles Calligan, who with his chief deputy, Steve Pierce, is making a trip over the range today and was in Virginia this morning. Mr. Calligan formerly lived at Hibbing and served several terms as clerk of the township of Stuntz. He is serving his first term as register of deeds and has a large number of friends on the range who hope to see him returned. Mr. Calligan has made an excellent officer and has made many friends since he took the office.

Matt Kostanek, agent for the Duluth Brewing & Malting Co., is in Hibbing today on business.

VEIL OF RIGID CENSORSHIP HIDES NEWS OF BATTLES IN THE WEST OF FRANCE

SURPRISED ON ANNIVERSARY OF SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Karl were very pleasantly surprised last evening on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary by a number of their friends at their home at 108 Central avenue north, the surprise being arranged by their daughters, the Misses Lucy and Margaret.

A fine supper was served and Mr. and Mrs. Karl received a number of handsome presents while the wishes of all for many more wedding anniversaries were extended. Following is a list of the guests:

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Murphy; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zind; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Oman; Mr. and Mrs. J. Rooney; Mr. and Mrs. William Rooney, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Biederman; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fleming; F. Hughes, of Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lalowe; Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Henley and Mrs. Joseph Cummings of Chisholm. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gruesen; Mr. and Mrs. John Seitz of Duluth, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Thompson of Buhl.

JOSEPH KARL A DEFENDANT

Chisholm Woman Sues Him to Recover $5,000 Personal Injuries Damages.

Joseph Karl of Virginia, is the defendant in a suit for $5,000 personal injury damages brought by Mary Kumsa of Chisholm, which is being tried before Judge Hughes and a jury in district court today and was expected to go to the jury sometime this afternoon.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant allowed ice and snow to accumulate on a sidewalk in front of a butcher shop he conducted in Chisholm in 1908, and that in crossing the spot she tripped on an awning rope carelessly left dangling and was thrown with such force that she sustained serious injury.

Verdict for Defendants.

The jury in the case of John L. Henry vs. J. D. Magill et al. in which the plaintiff sought to recover damages for timber burned by a forest fire alleged to have been permitted to get beyond control by the defendant, returned a verdict for Magill et al. last night.

SUPERIOR TO MEET VIRGINIA

The Virginia High school football team will journey to Superior Saturday, where they will meet the strong Central High school team of that place.

Last fall these two teams played here, Virginia winning by a small score. This year the Superior aggregation has a much better eleven and from advance news the boys at the Head of the Lakes will give the Range warriors a hard game.

The high school team has practiced faithfully and with the addition of many new plays, should show improved form.

Coach Jackson will take about 15 players and many rooters are planning on the trip.

CHILDREN START BRISK BLAZE

Children playing with matches in the rear of a second floor room in a two-story frame building at 117 Walnut street this afternoon, about 1:25 started a fire which for a time threatened the destruction of the building, badly scorched it at the rear and resulted in a loss of about $200, the greater part of which is on the household effects of Philip Balfadio. Three families lived in the building and all were panic stricken when it was found to be a flame. The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and was compelled to lay hose to extinguish the blaze. The building is owned by Walter Heagle and the loss on it is covered by insurance.

The building being placed on the foundation at the corner of Mesaba avenue and Larch street will be occupied by E. Erickson, grocer.

DEMAND FOR MANGANESE

Officers of American Company Are Well Satisfied With Conditions.

DULUTH, Oct. 1.—E. C. Marshall president, and William Selfridge and W. A. Powell of Philadelphia, directors of the American Manganese Manufacturing company, returned East yesterday after an inspection of the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and the Cuyuna Duluth mines.

In the opinion of Mr. Marshall a decided improvement is likely to come about in the iron and steel situation in the near future, but he does not look for any permanent relief until after the war is over owing to the lessened European demand for most products and the unsettlement that is likely to prevail in the financial markets. He expressed gratification over the outlook for the production of manganese ores on the Cuyuna range.

The output at the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs and the Cuyuna-Duluth mines has been increased to 600 tons daily and it will be continued on that basis up to the close of the navigation season. A cargo of manganese ore was shipped yesterday and other lots will go forward from time to time. The company now has orders in hand for all the ore that can be raised during the remainder of the year all booked on a remunerative price basis.

The furnaces of the company at Dunbar, Pa., will go into blast this week with sufficient business booked ahead to assure their study operations. German manganese running up to 40 per cent and spiegeleisen carrying from 20 to 30 per cent manganese will be produced from Cuyuna range ores. These products command prices that are regarded as assuring satisfactory profits to the company. It was considered by the Philadelphia visitors that the products of manganese ores will command a high figure for some time to come as a result of the war and that a steady inquiry will exist for Cuyuna range products.

SUIT AGAINST CITY SETTLED

Carlo Fiacchi, laborer, who some time ago began a damage suit against the city for $800 settled it today for $65. Fiacchi was injured in a fall on a defective sidewalk on Balsam street.

SEES BATTLE 5,000 FEET IN AIR

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A letter from an officer of the Royal Flying corps, under date of Sept. 4, describing a view from an aeroplane of the battle eastward of Paris, says:

"Yesterday I was up for reconnaissance over this huge battle. I bet it will be remembered as the biggest in history. It extends from Compiègne right away to Belfort.

"We flew at 5 p. m. At that time the British guns all opened fire together. From a height of 5,000 feet I saw a sight which I hope it will never be my lot to see again. The woods and hills were literally cut to ribbons all along the south of Laon. It was marvelous, watching hundreds of shells bursting below, one to the right and to the left, for miles, and then to see the German guns replying.

"I fear there will be a lot more awful fighting before this show ends, but we are certain it will end with us on top, although we all had our doubts about three weeks ago, during that awful retreat."

"The huge battle is still going on. Our machines, after being out all day till bring in the same news. The Germans have got into one of the strongest positions possible. Fortunately, reinforcements are arriving and coming up on the German right at Soissons.

"I simply crave for cigars. They need to be carefully disguised, though, or they will be stolen en route."

The officer mentioned that the aeroplanes are shot and shelled by friend and foe every time they ascend. They hardly ever descend without bullet holes all over the planes, but, fortunately, the writer says, the flying corps had lost only one pilot and passenger up to Sept. 4.

ALLIES CLAIM GROUND GAINED OVER GERMANS

RUSSIAN ADVANCES IN EAST PRUSSIA

French Official Announcement Declares Situation Is But Little Modified.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

The screen of secrecy erected by the censorship almost entirely across northern France, behind which the military craftsmen have for the last three weeks been fashioning the rough outlines of a new map of the eastern hemisphere, stands today almost unimpaired. It has, however, judging from indications in London, been punctured here and there with holes that permit of some inkling of the events that are happening on the stage behind. From what can be deduced from these fragmentary glimpses there would appear to be justification for the optimism manifested on the part of the allies.

German Report Repulsed.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—An official communication issued at Antwerp, according to a dispatch to the Reuters telegraph company says: "The German artillery during yesterday continued a bombardment of our first line of forts in the south. Our works suffered a little, but we are still in a condition to make effective resistance."

A second dispatch to the Reuters from German general headquarters says: "Hostile forces are advancing to the north and south of Albert, a town in France to the northeast of Amiens. Attacking yesterday they were easily repulsed. In Argonne our attack is progressing steadily although slowly. At other points on the Meuse line there is no change."

Russians Progressing.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Colonel Golejewski, military attaché of the Russian embassy, today issued the following official report from Petrograd: "On September 28, after stubborn fighting our troops captured the German positions at Augustowo and Kozetz. On Sept. 29 we took the defiles between the lakes at Simmo Sereje and Lejpuny. The Germans have been driven back in the region between Suwalki, Sejny and Mariopol. Our advance continues. The bombardment of Oshowjetz has so far been without success.

Cholera in Austrian Army.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A late dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Rome states that General von Auffenberg, commander of the first Austrian army, is suffering from cholera, according to a dispatch to Vienna.

Mines Protested by Italy.

ROME, (via London), Oct. 1.—The Austrian government has replied to the Italian protest against the use of floating mines in the Adriatic sea. Austria deplores the sinking of Italian vessels and promises to take steps to remove the menace. It is also promised that the families of the victims will be fully indemnified. It is reported that Italy has demanded from Austria indemnity of a million dollars.

Fighting in the Orient.

TOKIO, Oct. 1.—A severe engagement has been opened by German warships which are cannonading the Japanese position near Tsing Tau, east of Kiao Chau, the German leased territory in China. Two officers were killed. The warships are assisted by German aeroplanes. The Japanese war office announces that the artillery duel at Tsing Tau continues and that a German torpedo boat destroyer was sunk in the harbor Wednesday. From other sources it is learned that the German destroyer was sunk by the Japanese siege guns.

Paris Reports Progress.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—The following official communication was issued this afternoon: "There has been no modification in the general situation. We have nevertheless made progress on our left to the north of Somme and on our right in the southern Woevre district.

Fruit Sale.

Saturday, October 10, Miss Gladys Barclay, head of the domestic science department of the Technical high school, will hold a sale of canned fruit, that was put up by the students in this department. The prices on the fruit will be very reasonable, merely covering the cost.
