and John Peyton Solemnized
by Dr. Yost.

LITTLE BRIDGES AND DINNERS ARE NUMEROUS

Cotillion Club Will Give Fourth
Party of the Season
Tonight.

In the softened glow of candlelight, surrounded by surpliced boys from St. Paul's choir, Miss Julia E. Morrow last evening became the bride of John Newton Peyton at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morrow, 4 North Seventeenth avenue East. The wedding was one of the most charming seen in Duluth in many seasons, combining the solemnity of some of the features of a church wedding with the more personal, intimate note that only a home function can give.

The Morrow home was exquisitely decorated for the event. The drawingroom, in the large bay window of which the vows were spoken, was in white and green, developed in smilax, Easter lilies and Roman hyacinths. The bride was preceded down the broad staircase by a choir of little boys from St. Paul's Episcopal church who sang the wedding hymn. They took their places before the improvised altar and formed an aisle through which the wedding procession moved. Miss Morrow wore a gown of ivory-colored satin, trimmed with tulle and old lace, with a veil of tulle. The bridal bouquet was of lilies of the valley and white orchids.

Miss Marjorie Morrow, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was charming in pink taffeta, effectively trimmed with pink and white chiffon, and carried a colonial bouquet. Hamilton Peyton, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The service was read by Rev. Robert Yost of First Presbyterian church.

Only the two families, their intimate friends and the girl friends of the bride were present. The pretty toilettes of the group of young women added to the effectiveness of the diningroom motive which was in pink. Masses of pink bride roses were used, and the hall adjoining was treated in yellow.

Mr. and Mrs. Peyton will be away the rest of the winter, returning about the first of April.

An out-of-town guest was Mrs. M. L. Yonce of Janesville, Wis., a cousin of Mr. Morrow. She will remain in the city for a few days.

A group of boys and girls of the younger set was entertained informally at dinner last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turle, 2216 East Superior street, for their son, Lovell Turle. The guests were Miss Ethel Bunnell, Miss Elizabeth Lyman, Miss Josephine Cotton, Miss Isabel Jacobl, Miss Eulalie Chisholm, Miss Mary Weiss, Miss Merry Mitchell, Miss Frances Sellwood, Miss Mary Baldwin, Miss Claire Elizabeth Baldwin, Miss Patsy Watson, Miss Virginia Werner, Miss Ruby Britts; Jack Marshall, Donald Kirby, Edson Van Bergem, Benson Stearns, Carl Luster, Tom Wood, Robert Curry, William Upham, James McAuliffe, Harvey Owens, John Killorin, Harold Selenius, William Stephenson and Donald McGregor.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, after which the young people went to the curling rink to enjoy some skating, returning at an early hour.

An unusually attractive afternoon was afforded the 50 guests of Mrs. J. R. McGiffert, 2224 East Fifth street, at her bridge luncheon yesterday. Luncheon was served at the 12 bridge tables, and the score cards designated the seat of each guest. Mrs. G. L. Douglass was the lucky winner of the first prize, and Mrs. Hector Nichols captured the second.

The tables were cleverly designed and decorated to indicate the 12 months of the year. January had a New Year's display; February, of course, commemorated St. Valentine; next followed the March hare, the April fool and the May-pole. June was appropriately the month of flowers; July was patriotic with red, white and blue. In some respects August was the most fancifully arranged of all, for it hinted at the "Lark o' the Lake," and a canoe with tiny lanterns occupied the center of the table. Luncheon was eaten from picnic plates at this table.

The September table was gay with autumn leaves, October glowed with Jack o' lanterns, November had the Thanksgiving turkey, and the December table had a tiny Christmas tree. All of the 50 women guests enjoyed themselves hugely.

The 50 people who will assemble at the Kitchi Gami club this evening are anticipating an unusually pleasant time, despite the fact that there has been no fanfare of trumpets announcing wonderful things—probably, indeed, for that very reason. Light refreshments will be served late in the evening.

One of the most delightful club affairs of the week was the social afternoon given by the members of the Jewish chautauqua yesterday at the library clubrooms. The feature of the afternoon was the reading of Augustus Thomas' play, "A's's Man Thinketh," by Mrs. Mary Adeline Nelson. Mrs. Nelson's dramatic skill and vivid powers of interpretation were given delightful play in the Thomas drama, and the audience was enthusiastic in its appreciation. Mrs. Nelson has seldom been heard in the reading of modern plays, as she makes Shakespearian interpretation her forte, but she was delightfully at home in the play given before the chautauqua yesterday.

A social hour followed the reading. At the tea-tables that were daintily appointed in pink and white, hyacinths and pink-shaded candles being used, Mrs. M. Levy and Mrs. Henry Abrahams presided. Mrs. M. Cook and Mrs. T. D. Jacobs were in general charge of arrangements for the afternoon.

The members of the Matinee Musicals will hear a lecture on musical topics Friday evening, when Thomas Whitney Surett of Boston will speak on "Music in Its Relation to Life." The lecture will be given at the First Methodist church at 8:15 o'clock. Membership tickets will admit the members of the club, and the usual arrangements in regard to guest tickets are being made. Mr. Surett will arrive in the city Friday morning and will speak under the auspices of the club at 10 o'clock in the Central high school before the teachers who are attending the Northeastern Education association meeting.

Mrs. N. F. Hugo will be hostess for the February dramatic afternoon of the Twentieth Century club Feb. 19. Miss Mary Shesgreen will read Clyde Fitch's play, "The Truth."

Miss Elizabeth Andrews of New Bethelchem, Pa., will be guest of honor at a luncheon tomorrow afternoon given by her aunt, Mrs. C. P. Craig, 2405 East First street, whom she is visiting. Formerly a student at Wellesley college, Miss Andrews has many friends and former schoolmates in Duluth. She was also complimented at a dinner given earlier in the week at the Kitchi Gami club.

Arrangements are being made for the February "ladies' night" at the Commercial club to be given next Wednesday evening. Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury, Mrs. J. E. MacGregor, Mrs. Hans Haroldson, Miss Lucille Bradley and Miss Marjorie Ferguson have the affair in charge.

Miss Jane Melville, 1917 East Fourth street, will entertain tomorrow evening for her guest, Miss Hoy, of St. Paul. The 25 guests invited will enjoy an evening of dancing.

Mrs. Charles Stewart, 231 East Fifth street, gave a dinner party last evening to celebrate her birthday anniversary. Music and cards helped to pass the evening after the dinner, at which the guests included Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mrs. George Cashin of Winnipeg, Mrs. M. Gruby, Mrs. J. B. Cox, Mrs. Edward Sucor, Miss Mary Weller, Miss Agnes Arbrush and Miss Frances Shenick. The table was prettily decorated in pink and white. Mrs. Stewart was the recipient of several handsome gifts.

Mrs. Edward Bennett, 3820 West Third street, will entertain the Ladies' Aid society of Westminster Presbyterian church tomorrow evening. The assisting hostesses will be Mrs. J. D. Goodhand, Mrs. Joseph Belanger and Mrs. Ross. The program for the evening will include the following: Violin solo, Philip Forstad; trio, Mr. and Mrs. George Jewell and Mrs. Mae Baillie; duet, Mrs. Jewell and Mrs. Baillie; vocal solo, Miss Esther Larson; reading, Miss Myrtle Farnham; vocal solo, Miss Clara Bennett. Miss Clara Goodhand will be the accompanist for the entire entertainment.

The girls of the extension department of the Y. W. C. A. will give a Valentine party tomorrow evening at the association rooms. Games will be played and light refreshments will be served. Mrs. John Shea will preside at the piano. Saturday afternoon the Ely school will have its campfire party, and tomorrow afternoon Jackson school will have its campfire party. Colonial parties will be a feature of next week at the association.

The thirtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sattler, 116 Seventh avenue East, was celebrated by their friends Tuesday evening. A few hours were pleasantly spent at cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Manthey have left on their wedding trip for Chicago and various points in Michigan and Indiana. They expect to be at home after March 1 at 1209 West Fifth street. Mrs. Manthey was Miss Margaret Tidball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Tidball, 1209 West Fifth street. The wedding was solemnized Tuesday by Rev. Bruce Black of Union church.

The weekly women's meeting of Central W. C. T. U. will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Bethel, Mesaba avenue and Third street. It will be a mother's day program. Mrs. Alice Warren will conduct the devotional exercises, with Mrs. J. T. Culbertson as leader. At the social half hour, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Galvin will sing.
