MISS SCHMIED TO DANCE
AT LYCEUM NEXT WEEK

Linnaea Society Reports $1,000
Cleared From Recent Tag Day.

The first of the Wednesday afternoon card parties for women at the Northland Country club will be given today. Many will not go home afterward, but will be joined by their husbands for the dinner dance this evening, which constitutes the formal opening of the season.

The regular weekly dinner dances of the club will be held on Wednesdays, with the single exception that the meeting for the third week in June will be on Thursday evening instead of Wednesday, making the date June 25.

The announcement made by the Lyceum management that Miss Berta Schmied, assisted by her brother, Leo Schmied, will illustrate the modern dances for theater patrons next week will interest many. Prophets are said to be without honor in their own country, but Miss Schmied and her brother have not had to go away from their own home in order to be appreciated. Reports of their ability and excellence have spread, however, so that tours to other cities will probably be made in the near future.

Mrs. Stephen H. Jones has arranged the Lyceum appearance, as they were the feature attraction of her students' vaudeville. Miss Schmied and her brother will dance during the engagement of "Baby Mine" next week, appearing Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. They have donated their services for the Wednesday matinee. There will be a representative list of patronesses. The affair will indeed be something of a social event, certain boxes having been taken for all four performances. It is probable that by Saturday of this week there will not be a box left for any of Miss Schmied's appearances.

A lilac tea will be given on Mrs. A. R. Macfarlane's lawn at Glen Avon by the Glen Avon guild this afternoon and evening from 2 to 5 o'clock and from 7 to 8 o'clock. Arrangements have been made for several automobile parties, who will conclude the ride by attending the tea.

At the meeting of the Linnaea society held yesterday afternoon at Foresters' hall, a report of the recent tag day showed that $1,000 had been cleared. A report of the district convention of federated clubs held at Cloquet May 5 and 6 was read and commented upon. It was decided to have a book printed containing the constitution and by-laws of the society, the names of the members and their addresses and the members of the committees.

At yesterday's meeting several new cases for relief came up. The society furnished the funeral expenses for the burial of a tuberculosis sufferer, and also contributed clothes for the young children of the family.

The hostesses were Mrs. Hugo Swenson, Mrs. F. Sandstedt and Mrs. A. W. Anderson.

The next meeting will be held July 7 at the home of Mrs. Annie Amundson at Spirit Lake and will be in the form of a picnic. The hostesses will be Mrs. Amundson and Mrs. August Larson of Smithville, and Mrs. F. Widell and Mrs. Frank Brandt of New Duluth.

Both are Duluthians.

Miss Maghan's bridesmaid, Miss Myrtle Maghan, and Miss Claudia Cox's bridesmaid, Miss Myrtle Cox, will also be honor guests at the party.

Miss Anna Knudsen, 2723 West Third street, will entertain in honor of Miss Claudia Cox Monday evening.

A suffrage play, "How the Vote Was Won," was given by the O. G. G. club of the Y. W. C. A. extension department in the Y. W. C. A., auditorium last evening. Miss Helen Putnam, in men's clothes, made a decided hit as Horace Cole.

The role of Mrs. Cole was charmingly taken by Miss Clara Broadbridge, whose sister Winnifred (Miss Mamie Uorski) made a clever suffrage speech. Miss Azilda Le Garle as Horace's sister Agatha also gave an interesting plea for women's rights. The part of Miss Lizzie Wilkins, Horace's aunt, was taken by Miss Dillah Bailey. Miss Jessie Broadbridge was an ideal Lily, maid of all work.

The other characters were well taken: Molly (Horace's niece), Miss Josephine Grohman; Madame Christine (distant relation), Miss Gertrude Averbook; Maudie Spark (first cousin), Miss Sylvia Walker; Gerald Williams (his neighbor), Miss Ruth Williams.

Preceding the play a vocal solo by Miss Adeline Melrose and a reading by Miss Irene Wardell were well received.
