

The Young People's Jewish society was formed Wednesday afternoon, the purpose being social, the entertainments to include sleighrides, dances and parties. There are 15 boys in the membership of the club and about the same number of girls. The social affairs will be arranged by the president and a cabinet of five. The officers are: Jacob Garon, president; cabinet, Fanny Weinberg, Abe Salnovitch, Sam Gofen, David Segal and Sarah Rachlin.

