

'SET 'EM UP,' THE MOTTO AS TICKER SAYS "WAR"

Crowds Throng Virginia Streets While Workers at Washington Draw "The Lucky Numbers."

VIRGINIA, July 20.—Crowds here thronged the sidewalks today in front of a half dozen bulletin boards upon which were posted the numbers and names of the men picked in the war lottery at Washington.

Names and numbers were furnished by the Western Union Telegraph company in conjunction with the local newspapers. Women were as eager to learn if numbers of brothers or sweethearts were drawn as the men themselves.

Most of the men whose names were posted, took their "fate" calmly and with good grace. Everyone, it seemed, wanted to "buy" for the boys who were drafted, and others kept the barkeeps busy.

Joseph Schmidt, a corpulent citizen, who was lately a subject of the kaiser, scanned the names and waxed ecstatic when he discovered that he had not been picked to shoulder arms against Kaiser Bill.

"Goot!" he said, throwing his arms up wildly. "I vill not haf to fight against mein brothers." A moment later he cried: "Mein Gott! Mein vatch!" Someone had annexed the ex-German's gold watch and chain.
