

MAY WEDDING AT SYNAGOGUE ATTRACTIVE

Miss Cohen Became the Bride of S. Golden; To Live Here.

One of the most attractive of the spring weddings took place Sunday at 6 o'clock at the Adast Israel synagogue, when Miss May Cohen became the bride of Samuel Golden. Rabbi I. Teplitz officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. S. Cohen, wore a gown of white charmeuse made with a long train. Her conventional veil was made into a cap effect with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Little Fern Nathanson of Virginia headed the procession, carrying the ring in the heart of a lily. The maid of honor, Miss Leona Cohen, wore a pink moonglo satin frock, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetpeas and yellow jonquils. The bridesmaids, Miss Edith Karon and Miss Bessie Golden, wore gowns of satin and georgette, and carried arm bouquets of Russell roses. Miss Karon wore Nile green, and Miss Golden, peach.

Among the out of town guests who attended the ceremony and the reception which followed in Talmud Torah, were A. B. Wolvin of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Nathanson of Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bloom and the Misses Bessie and Tobie Osberman of Hibbing, Rabbi and Mrs. Sugarman of Virginia, Max Yager and M. Levy of Minneapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Golden will live in Duluth.
