

MANY DULUTHIANS ARRIVE IN PORT; COME HOME SOON

First Army Artillerymen Are in the Majority—Forty-Six Names Listed.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Four troopships arrived here recently with 46 Duluthians on board. There also were a large number of range and northwest soldiers.

The Duluth men and the company they belong to are as follows: Casual companies' tank corps—Sergt. W. A. Flink. One Hundred and Sixty-ninth aero squadron—Chauf. E. Kohagen, Pvt. E. H. Broadfoot. Evacuation hospital, No. 25—Pvt. William Bourgeois. Sick and wounded—Sergt. Carl Friederickson, Third anti-aircraft machine gun battalion; Wagoner H. Gustafson, Riverside; Pvt. J. Goldfarb. One Hundred and Twelfth infantry, Twenty-eighth division—Pvt. Oscar Erickson, Alex C. Nystrom, West Duluth; First army artillery park—Adolph I. Hanson, Pvt. Archie Brown, Pvt. Roman Stefanski, Pvt. William Summerfield, Maurice Klatsky, Corp. Fred L. Koehler, Pvt. Charles G. Johnson, Pvt. John H. Holmberg, Pvt. M. P. Reinhart, Pvt. Fritz Larson, Corp. David S. Horak, Pvt. James A. Redmayne, Pvt. Arthur Taraldson, Pvt. George Winthrop, Pvt. Francis V. Hancock, Corp. Bernard Anderson, Corp. Frank Slowinski, Pvt. Joe E. Jeanetta, Corp. Harry N. Strand, Wgr. Earl Domeo, Pvt. Tom Adamiak, Corp. Arthur Hedlund, Corp. George M. Nelsen, Corp. Alfred C. Olson, West Duluth, Wgr. William Maske, Corp. J. G. Olson, Corp. Alfred C. Harris, Arvid Trulson, Corp. Fred C. Wheeler, Corp. Ralph P. Thompson, Corp. George E. Miller, Corp. John A. Risatti, Corp. Robert A. Jacobsen, Pvt. John J. Mucha, Sergt. Clarence C. Olson, Cook William H. Warner, Pvt. Oscar Olson.