

CHIEF HIMSELF BREAKS

UP 'FRIENDLY LI'L GAME'

---

What the participants claimed to be only a "friendly game" was broken up yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police John Murphy. The game was in progress on the corner of Eighth street and Fourth avenue East. Henry Goldfarb chanced to be rolling the "bones" when Chief Murphy appeared. Roman Halicki, George Shayer and Frank Czelewski accompanied Henry to police headquarters where all the lads were released by the chief on their promise of "never to do it again."
