Infant Welfare Work Described
 In order to promote interest in the prenatal clinic just organized with the co-operation of the Infant Welfare society at the Talmud Torah settlement house, social service department, the first of a series of monthly social gatherings for mothers and prospective mothers was held last week at the settlement house. About thirty women of the neighborhood attended and were first entertained by Talmud Torah children with dances and songs, and were later addressed by Dr. C. O. Maland, medical director of the prenatal clinic, who urged just as faithful attendance at the pre-natal clinic as at the children's clinic.

In the children's clinic, which has been established for a year, over 192 babies are registered, said Mrs. J. I. Kurtz, director of the Talmud Torah social service department, which is one of the beneficiaries of the Community Fund. In the pre-natal clinic, just started, there are 9 registered.

The Misses Helen C. Peck, Rachal Schwartz, and Winnifred Ryan are the Infant Welfare Nurses in attendance at the clinics.

WISCONSIN JEWISH COMMUNITIES SOCIALLY ACTIVE

The problem of the Jew in the small towns seems to be solving itself in Wisconsin. Social activities there make for Jewish solidarity and keep alive the Jewish spirit and ideals. Last week a dinner party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rabinowitz, of Park Falls, Wis. Guests from several adjoining towns were present, including a number of visitors from St. Paul, Minn. These included Mr. and Mrs. Dave Rabinowitz, Park Falls, Wis.; Miss Hannah Harris, Merrill, Wis.; Mr. Frank Rabinowitz, Louis Rabinowitz, Miss Esther Rabinowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Rabinovitz, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rabinovitz, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Sternberg, Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman, and Miss Anne Rabinowitz, all of Park Falls, Wis.; Mr. Sylvan Ruben, Miss Hattie Ruben, Manistique, Mich.; Mr. Abe Goldfine of Bayfield, Wis. Mr. George Sternberg and Mr. Sam Wilmer were the guests from St. Paul.

KREUTZER SONATA PRODUCED IN YIDDISH BEFORE A LARGE AUDIENCE

The Dramatic Art Society of the Twin Cities, an organization composed of members of the Poale Zion of the Twin Cities, gave a splendid performance of Jacob Gordin's masterpiece, the "Kreutzer Sonata," in Yiddish, in Finnish Hall, last Sunday evening. The personnel, although composed of amateurs, acquitted itself like veteran artists. Only David Kessler could have interpreted Raphael in better fashion than did Mr. A. Brodnick. Miss Robbins as Hava, Miss Esther Gelbert as Ettie and Miss Minnie Gelbert as Celia, did splendid work. Jacob Berman played the part of Ephraim the Klesmer like a veritable artist. Miss Bertha
