FIGHTING THE "FEAR COMPLEX"

Orthodox. We need both, and the Seminary is so poorly supported that the president has had to pay a deficit of $20,000 out of his own pocket. They should support Palestine Development Corporations, the Jewish Publication Society and the National Farm School. In other words, they should be the mainstays of the spiritual development of American Jewry. Their financial investment would bring them large spiritual returns and rescue them from spiritual isolation.

"One final word: What the Jews of this country need is the stimulation that can come only from making them constantly conscious of their own capacity. This campaign has gone a long way toward accomplishing that, and to save them from lapsing into the state in which we found them I would have frequent campaigns. There are many good causes to which the Jews of this country can and should contribute in much larger measure than they do now. And by giving to all and in large measure they will then become those fine, upstanding self-confident communities which they should be as integral parts of the American people—as conscious, loyally Jewish communities.

"HATORAN" AS AN ENLARGED NUMBER

New York (J. C. B.)—The monthly Hebrew journal, "Hatoran," which enters on the 9th year of its publication, has been issued in a new and enlarged form by the Safruth Publishing Company, of which I. Metz is president, Solomon Lampport, treasurer, and E. Schmerler, secretary.

The enlarged "Hatoran," while remaining unflinchingly Zionist-ic, thus becomes a private venture, the support of the Zionist Organization of America having been withdrawn.

The March number contains contributions by Reuben Brainin, the editor, Dr. J. Blau, Dr. Isaac Epstein of Jerusalem, Dr. Joseph Reiter of Philadelphia, Ab. Goldberg, Joseph Brainin, Prof. David Neumark, Prof. Chas. Cuttler-Terry, and others.

In honor of the 60th anniversary of Reuben Brainin, the veteran editor and publicist, an association has been formed to publish his collective works, comprising about 30 volumes.

VIRGINIA, MINN.
Purim-tide was especially happy for Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cohen (nee Evelyn Shanedling) because of the arrival of a baby daughter on Friday, March 10, 1922.

On the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the Berlin Missionary Society it published a report stating that it was successful in the direct conversion of 3,000 Jews. The report also stated that the anti-Semitic movement greatly hampered its work.
