

WOMEN, MEN WILL COMBAT FOR SPELLING SUPREMACY

Are men better spellers than women?

The supremacy of one sex over the other in the art of spelling will be settled this evening, when 25 members of Covenant lodge, B'nai B'rith, will meet 25 women of the Council of Jewish Women in an old-fashioned spelling bee at Covenant hall, 12 East Superior street.

J. H. Bentley, superintendent of schools, has prepared a list of 1,000 words to be spelled during the contest, while Frank Crassweller, president of the school board, will act as the school teacher and call off the words.

The men's team, headed by Samuel Gofen, follows: M. E. Altman, Jesse Cohen, George Casimir, Harry W. Davis, Herman Elevelitch, Ralph Elevelitch, Abe Feldman, D. P. Fieldman, Hugo Freimuth, Louis Freimuth, Dr.

Samuel Gross, Jacob Garon, Toby Garon, Charles W. Green, A. B. Kapplin, Rabbi I. Lebendiger, Maurice Labovitz, Morris Mark, Charles D. Oreckovsky, Percy Oreck, Abe Solon, Joseph Welner and Harry E. Weinberg.

Miss Anna Mark is captain of the women's team, which follows: Mrs. S. Polans, Mrs. Jacob Garon, Mrs. M. Cook, Mrs. D. Freimuth, Mrs. Lyle Oreck, Mrs. Morris Altman, Mrs. A. A. Friss, Mrs. I. Lebendiger, Mrs. A. Davidson, Mrs. S. Hirshfield, Mrs. Julius Siegel, Mrs. Ozman, Mrs. J. Leurl, Mrs. M. D. Nides, Mrs. H. Y. Josephs, Miss Anna Mark, Miss Bertha Mendelsohn, Miss Lillian Karon, Miss Mae Kilen, Miss Alice Wetzler, Miss Esther Abrahamson, Miss Ida Berkson, Miss Mayme Weinberg, Miss Lillian Levy and Mrs. C. A. Saksonoff.