

Goldfine-Ovetsky Nuptials Celebrated

With a setting of palms and pink flowers Miss Fanny Ovetsky and Abe Goldfine, both of this city, were united in marriage by Rabbi Berger at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Odd Fellows' hall.

Before the services Mrs. B. D. Benjamin sang "Oh Promise Me," accompanied by Miss Idalla Berkson, and "I Love You Truly."

The bridal procession entered in the center of the hall marked off by rows of pink ribbons and palms. The first to enter was Ben Ovetsky, groom of the bride, who was best man. He proceeded to the altar and stood at the left stair. Then came the groom, attended by his father and brother and awaited the bride at the foot of the altar.

The maid of honor, Miss Anna Goldfine, then entered and proceeded to the left stair where she joined the bride. She was daintily dressed in a frock of pink organdy trimmed with rose petals. With her she wore a large picture hat with streamers and carried a massive bouquet of orchid sweetpeas and pink roses, touched with tulle streamers.

Then came the three attendants, the Elder of Superior, Misses Laska and Goldfine of Duluth. They wore frocks of organdy in rose, yellow and tomato shades, their bouquets being showers of sweetpeas in self colors, all wearing pink organdy hats with streamers.

They proceeded half way up the aisle and were escorted by the ushers Joe Kaner, Joseph Heleth and Tobias Garon and Abe Goldfine of the city, and the streamers making an aisle for the bride, who then entered with her father and mother who gave her in marriage. She was charmingly dressed in a dress of heavy white canton crepe fashioned on youthful lines with a long train tulle veil in the back, with orange blossoms and the crown. She carried a large bouquet of white sweetpeas and orchids, with tulle streamers caught at intervals with pink ribbons. Two little girls, twin nieces of the bride dressed in little white dresses and carrying miniature bridal showers of pale pink and white sweetpeas carried her veil on their right hand. The little flower bearer carried the ring in a white lily and the flower girl carried a little Gertrude Kaner with a small bouquet of pink roses.

Supper was served for 250 guests, of all of which Mr. Miller of Eau Claire, Wis., and Harry Segal of Duluth played the piano and violin.

After the evening a reception was given for about 400 guests, and dancing was enjoyed from 9 to 12.

The bride's mother wore a gown of dark blue canton crepe with heavy trimmings and wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother was dressed in black charmeuse with white drapings. Her corsage was of pink roses and sweetpeas.

The young couple have left on an extended motor trip. After Sept. 15 they will be at home at 109 East Third street.
