'THE DOUBLE O'

AND HERE, GENTLEMEN, IS REAL LOVE FOR HORSES

By OSCAR OTIS

Quite a few editions ago, we predicted that Marcella Rabwin, wife of a Los Angeles surgeon, was planning to expand her one-horse stable, to wit, one Wound Stripe, into a more or less pretentious establishment.

This is rapidly coming to pass. Mrs. Rabwin is in the market for anything that will whinney and has four sturdy pins able to keep up in racing. Mrs. Rabwin's first attraction as a news item on the turf was through the fact that she goes into a psychic tailspin every time Wound Stripe races, just missing a nervous breakdown in a photo finish. She gets that excited!

JACK WESTROPE

But the real story of Wound Stripe, the one-horse stable, has yet to be told. I'm going to quote the lady herself:

"I used to go to the track at Hollywood Park and Santa Anita just to please my husband. I'd take my knitting so as not to get bored. I thought that betting on horses was the acme of silly pastimes.

"Came the dawn, as they say in the movies, where I used to work. Just to please a friend, I went in on a bet at Hollywood Park on a horse called Compton. Even dropped the knitting to watch the race. Needless to say, Compton won, and paid $49.60.

(Note—At this time, it is hardly necessary to explain that Mrs. Rabwin asked herself the usual question of the novice—How long has this been going on?)

"I was so excited I determined to buy a horse of my own. Just started out through the Hollywood stable area, finally picked Wound Stripe, a maiden, for $500. We were furnishing a home in Beverly Hills, so I just skimped on antiques enough to get anold of the purchase price.

"Nobody thought Wound Stripe would ever do much. But so far, he has won $2400 in purses, not to mention wagers. I've got a start on the racetrack. And from here on, I'm in business—the racing business."

First excursion into the field of expansion came last week. Mrs. Rabwin claimed Cynic Queen for $1250. Raced him back for $1500. Original owner, Oakmont Stable, claimed her right back for that amount. A clear profit of $250 in less than a week.

RACING IS MORE FUN

Mrs. Rabwin did not mention that for 10 years she served "art" as an executive assistant to David O. Selznick, motion picture producer. Wouldn't go back to the movies for the world, though. Pace too slow to compare with a racetrack.

Nor did she mention that her nephew, a rather unique character himself, is training her horse, and horses to be. This Feldman youth quit a job as an assistant director at Columbia ($200 a week) to get a job as an exercise boy with Dick Watts at Hollywood Park. This new job payed $100 a month. He started as a polisher of harness. Too heavy for a jockey, he galloped horses mornings. Now, he too, is a trainer.

Financial loss? Sure. But, he claims that movie was right — you can't take it with you, and racing is more fun than pictures.

That, my friends, is a combination on the turf that bespeaks a true love of the horse.

ANOTHER TOTE BOARD

An original design of the Los Angeles Turf Club (Santa Anita) will be used at the new American tote boards at both Arcadia and Albany this winter, it was announced yesterday.

A. J. Johnston, district manager of the American tote, explains it as follows:

"The principle of assembling all information on each horse, straight, place, and show, will be followed in parallel panels. It will show each horse by number with the odds alongside the top, and below on the panel will be amounts wagered to win, place, and show on corresponding lines to the total pools. These totals will be at the right, not at the top, as at present.

"The panels, consecutively numbered from one to 12, designate the race fields."

Main feature of the new board is that it is only half as high as the old board, a feature first introduced to this country by Bill Kyne's new, long, low, double board, and hence makes for a full view of the races by all fans, at all times.

HERE AND THERE

Jockey Joe Dyer has joined the local riding ranks—He will ride for George S. Howell of Louisville, a recent arrival with six head—Dyer, a veteran, rides at 102 pounds—He was leading rider on the Canadian circuit last year with 50 winners . . . A bad accident killed Amelia Hay and Silent Don, en route to Caliente, and shook up Abide and, a two-year-old—The horse van overturned on the Ridge route, 15 miles north of Newhall . . . Bartlett, Broadus, and Edward A. have been added to the steward's list . . . Jockey Les Balaski has been signed to ride Hysterical in the $10,000 Bay Meadows handicap of December 7 . . . Another riding engagement registered with the stewards is that of Jack Westrope for Wild Oats in the Salinas handicap of next Saturday.

STAKE DAYS LOOMING ON MEADOWS HORIZON

TURKEY DAY 'CAP IS FIRST

By OSCAR OTIS

Stake days are rapidly approaching at Bay Meadows. From here on, rich purse offerings will be almost commonplace as the meeting picks up momentum towards the close.

Thanksgiving day will be celebrated this Thursday with a $2500 all-age handicap at six furlongs. Saturday follows with the $5000 Salinas stakes for two-year-olds at a mile and a sixteenth. In rapid order comes the four-mile Thornton stakes, scheduled a week from Saturday, the $10,000 Bay Meadows handicap on December 7, then the Oakland handicap on closing day, December 14.

Right now, the Salinas handicap is holding top interest inasmuch as it will be the first big stake of the year for two-year-olds over a distance of ground. Expected to ask for weights are Appeasement and Painted Veil, owned by Louis B. Mayer, Norman Church's Wild Oats, R. C. Ellsworth's Flying Choice, Lou Grana's bargain claim, Isometric; Charlie Howard's Rackatack, Mrs. Lloyd Pantages' Ira Pan, and Al Tarn's Moot Question.

Despite a rather "lean" week, Jockey Earl Dew continues to lead the Bay Meadows reinsman by a wide margin. Dew had a total of 35 winners at the end of the 26th day of racing. His nearest rival, the apprentice J. F. Frye, has 16, but has no chance to gain this week because he is on the ground for rough riding.

There is no racing at Bay Meadows this afternoon. Entries for the Tuesday program will be taken this morning, however.

The complete riding standings follow:

'SPONSORS NIGHT' TOPS 'EM ALL

SEMI-PRO NOTES BY LEO S. BUNNER

One of the greatest parties ever staged by the Northern California Managers' Association was the sponsors' night held at Del Mar Restaurant on Buchanan street last Thursday at which 85 folks, including sponsors, managers, directors of the association and members of the press, were there.

Al Erle was chairman of the evening and turned in a grand job, while James J. Nealon, president of the association, made a nice talk and gave a report on the standing of the group. Walter Mails, too, did a bit of speech making, while Rollie Cate, Glen Runyan and Clarence Frank, a trio from South San Francisco, took care of the entertainment.

All the sponsors and representatives from teams in attendance agreed that it was one of the greatest parties and from all accounts it looks as if the Managers' Association is going to move way out in front of the unit from the East Bay in the years to come.

Eddie Shaper and Steve Benedetti, Frankie McCormick, Armand Quartini, Skiggy Maysonnave put on their acts during the night and then the sponsors even took the floor to sing a few songs.

As if the job of staging the sponsors' night wasn't enough, Al Erle, Ole Sundberg, Brad Smith, Eddie Garrigan, Jim Nealon, Kenny Lund, Marty Drury, Bill Collins and many more came back the next night for the first meeting of the Old-Timers' Association at the Seals Stadium office. Close to 100 were on hand for the Old-Timers' meeting, which no doubt will be right alongside of the Bushrod Old-Timers' Club in the next few months.

Two outstanding players for The Chronicle team are Giles Daniels (top) and Ed Dougery.

ORR MONUMENT

If you feel in the mood to give a donation to help erect the monument to Anson Orr, late grand old man of Big Rec', you can send a check along to either Bill Kamm, one-time manager of the Mission Reds, or Eddie Shanahan. Al Erle of Hirsch and Price will accept donations too.

Leading hitters in the Seals Stadium Midwinter League include Frank Bettencourt, Hugo Pini and Joe Eggers, while Pitchers John Perry and Bill Casey have chalked up two wins.

Back in the line-up for the Federal Outfitting team which hopes to win quite a few Stadium league encounters in the next few weeks is Armond Quartini, U. S. F. football player.

The Columbia Park Boys have a new baseball coach in the person of Tub Spencer, one-time big league catcher, who has just joined the Park Boys, of which Andrew Piercey is director. The Park Boy Seniors are in Class C while the Juniors are playing independent ball.

LEGION BASEBALL

Al Nossum, head of the American Legion baseball around here, is mailing letters this week to all the legion posts in the Bay region so that he can get a line on what's going to be doing in legion Jr. baseball after the first of the year. The first meeting of the legion baseball, which figures to be made up of double the teams of this year, will be held sometime in December or January.

Skiggy Maysonnave of the Shipfitters scored a ten strike during the week when he added Bob Whitlow to his pitching staff which already includes Steve Bogdanoff and Georgie Hughes.

Mike Tufo, the gent who had the idea for the Golden Gate Valley Xmas tree party, says that a meeting will be held shortly after Thanksgiving to decide just where the party for the deserving youngsters will be held. Mike is still accepting prizes for the kids.

The Funston playground director, Fred Mahr, put on a party for Funston Jrs. and Intermediates a few weeks ago because they brought home the two titles in the recent playground league. Many baseball future stars are being groomed at Funston in the Marina where Spike Hennessey still holds forth.

Leading hitter for the Chronicle baseball team in the Class B National league is Ed Dougery who has an average of 400. The Chronicle team organized only a few months has lost but five games while winning 18. Pitchers for the team are Daniels, Loughery and Zelnike. Manager Denny Copp looks for his boys to finish near the top in their first season.

Outstanding players on the team include Tom Clarke, shortstop, and Mel Simpson, third base, a couple of lads from George Washington.

AT STADIUM

Federals, Butchers Win Games

Federal Outfitting and the American Meat Co. continued to top the Seals' Stadium Midwinter League as a result of victories scored yesterday afternoon on the Sixteenth and Bryant diamond.

The Federals won a pitchers' duel from the Warehousemen by a 5-2 margin, while two big innings enabled the Butchers to wallop the Les Vogel Chevrolets, 6-3. In the other game, the second and fourth inning spree gave the Shipfitters a 6-0 shutout over Junior Seals.

HORSE PLAYERS DIE BROKE? IT'S PROPAGANDA

Old Man Mose sat on the porch this morning with Spec, his horse picking pooch, in his lap.

"You know," he began, "there are times when I think you actually know what you are talking about. Take last Saturday, for instance, the two nags you slipped me, Valdina Joe and The Geb, breezed under the wire with the greatest of ease. It was almost unbelievable but there I was with a profit of $8.50 for the day. If I'm not careful I'll begin to think you know a thing or two about this business."

"Chief, I know plenty," barked the dog, "string along with me and you'll be lighting your pipe with five dollar bills."

"By gum, that sounds good," sang the old timer. "Do you really think I can make a fortune playing the horses?"

"With my help," replied our hero, "Barbara Hutton will be small fry as compared to you in a few years. You'll have John D. Rockefeller Jr., inviting you over to the Ritz for lunch. You'll be picking your teeth with sterling silver tooth-picks."

"Great," said old Mose, "but what's this they say about all horse players dying broke?"

"Propaganda, chief," snapped the purp, "there's nothing to it. Playing the races is the soundest investment you can make with your money. It is the safest and quickest way to make yourself independently wealthy that I know of. You'll never get rich leaving your money in the bank."

"Maybe not," the old boy replied, "but you'll never go broke doing that, either."
