New Mistrust Mars India-Pakistan Talks

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (U.P.)—Indian and Pakistani ministers opened negotiations over Kashmir today under a new cloud of mistrust blown up by announcement of a Pakistan-Red China agreement on their share of the border of the disputed state.

A vaguely worded Pakistani Red Chinese announcement said Wednesday night an agreement in principle had been reached on the 200 miles of border between Red

China's Sinkiang Province and that part of Kashmir on Pakistan's side of the U.N. cease-fire line dividing the Himalayan state.

In New Delhi, the announcement aroused surprise that was certain to turn into anger. There was no immediate public reaction from the Indian negotiators here, however.

Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan called in the Pakistani and Indian delegation leaders soon after they sat down at the conference table. A reliable source said Ayub wanted to clarify the agreement with Red China.

It was understood he appealed for a settlement on Kashmir, over which India and Pakistan have feuded since 1947, "in the interests of friendly relations between the two countries and the security of the subcontinent."

It was because of Red China's thrust deep into India's Himalayan borderlands two months ago that India and Pakistan agreed, at the urging of Britain and the United States, to renew attempts to negotiate over Kashmir.

Britain and the United States wanted a settlement of the feud to ease themselves off a spot—a desire to meet nonaligned India's requests for arms and at the same time to satisfy Pakistan's fears the arms would ultimately be turned against her, an ally of the West.

Ayub Khan and Indian Prime Minister Nehru have agreed to meet if their lower-level negotiators can make enough progress to promise a settlement.

Red China claims about 15,000 square miles of Kashmir and has taken practically all that she claims in the Ladakh part of the state on India's side of the U.N. cease-fire line.

Fighting has stopped under China's self-proclaimed cease-fire, but the Chinese are not pulling back as they are in India's northeastern border area. Nehru has declared he will never bow to the Red Chinese claim.

But Indian officials have feared ever since last May, when Pakistan announced she would negotiate an interim boundary agreement with Red China, that Pakistani officials would give way to Peking.

Names Make News

DR. E. BERTRAND WOOLFAN, who ordered medical attendants away after fatally shooting himself in the chest in Beverly Hills, Calif.

"I have diagnosed my wound and it will kill me. My lung is filling up and I am dying but no one is going to touch me."

Atty. Gen. ROBERT KENNEDY, discussing the release of 1,113 prisoners from Cuba.

"There was never any question about the fact we wanted those men back."

The National Committee for an Effective Congress, describing President KENNEDY as in the midst of a political "second honeymoon."

"His Cuban success has given the President increased domestic political latitude, and—if he uses it within the next six months—increased freedom from suspicion and carping at home from all but the paranoid right. But he must use it."

5 More Refugees Escape to West

BERLIN (UPI)—Five more East German refugees escaped to West Berlin unannounced by Communist border guards, bringing to 14 the number who have fled since Christmas, West Berlin police reported today.

Four men crossed the border early today, and another escaped Wednesday night. Eight others escaped Wednesday in a 10-ton bus covered with home-made armor plating.

This group, which included four year-old wife and their two girls, 18 months and 3 years old. As is usual with refugees from East Germany, their names were withheld to protect any relatives still living in the area.

The owner said he and the driver spent six months scouting the border, looking for the right spot to break through. They chose the Babelsburg checkpoint because of a downhill approach which would increase the bus's momentum.

"We didn't want to be heroes or martyrs," he said. "Tens of thousands of others would do the same if they could."

"The food in the Communist zone is very bad. There is almost no meat or sausage. People are spreading mustard on bread to give it some taste."

The bus owner, who walks on crutches as a result of war injuries, escaped with his 39-year-old wife, 10-year-old son and 15-year-old daughter. He took with him his driver, 22, the driver's 21-year-old wife and their two girls, 18 months and 3 years old.
